Fast paced, brutal and highly addictive.. I played this game a bit, i plan on spending a whole bunch more time on it. But it is a good game, i hope the Devs make more games. They did a good job with this one.. I don't know what to say about the game. It is fun but I get annoyed after a while, just the fact that you can't shoot up or down. Good graphics and all but the looping sounds of the weapons are horrible when the you face a wall. But after all great effort. I have only one recommodation if the player can't look or down make it at least that the player can use the arrow keys as well.. I have watched RealTutsGML, and that's what got me interested into game design. It is cool to see him moving forward and creating an actual game. Is a fun game, with interesting movement mechanics. However, sometimes it could be annoying, like the second boss took me FOREVER to figure out how to beat. Pretty basic but good art design. I gave a negative review earlier and I apologize for that as I have only played like a half-an-hour of it. Decent game, maybe 7/10 IMO.. I gave a negative review earlier and I apologize for that as I have only played like a half-an-hour of it. Decent game, maybe 7/10 IMO.. Great game! tons of fun for the price.. The first time I started the game, the first thing that hit me is the music. The music is good. The game is addicting, I've played for one hour straight and didn't stop. The levels or stages have different feels to them. All the bosses are fun to try to beat. (Then lose all the lives) When you die you don't lose everything, (ex. points) which makes it feel like every life lost has did something good for me. The shop is done extremely well. It's easy to navigate. The music gets old quickly but you can easily turn it off and play your own music. The level design is bland. However since the levels are randomly generated, there is always a new level every time you start a new game. Overall I give the game a 8/10. The gameplay, levels, shop, and most obviously blood make the game addicting. This is a game I will always remember, because of the experice you have while playing it. This game it worth the money to give it try.
